

Kimber is doing good, no problems so far. We just moved into a new house and Kimber and her sister are getting used to all the space and yard. Her sister is a pug named Chopper, she is three and a half years old. Kimber has had no health problems except for 'Cherry Eye', we had surgery to get that fixed. She weighs 28lbs, full of energy, loves to play, and is the best cuddler in the world. The only downside to her is that she hogs the bed, but we just bought a king size to give her and Chopper more room to stretch out. We take them to the dog park all the time, in the summer they go to the beach a lot and swim very well. We also took them to a cabin in the interior of BC last year and they had a blast.

Other than her sister her closest friends are a Rottweiler named Triton, Min Pin named Lina, Golden Retriever named Jazz, Choppers blood sister named Gyzmo, and any other dog we come by. She likes to run, play fetch, swim, and get into trouble. She likes to torment our cat as well. Kimber is well behaved most of the time, and gives the cutest puppy dog face in the world. Here are the pictures I have on the computer now, they are from the day we got her to some more recent. I will take some other new ones soon likely the last week of August to visit family.
